Hey guys,

After reviewing Dante's redline version in preparation for our final responses discussion Monday morning, I made a few more changes: things like replacing cap with cover, and a few other minor changes. I did not focus on the ARC responses for this quick review/edit.

Dante, other than the few changes I made, the remainder of your capture looks good. Can you take a look and create a new clean version for our discussion on Monday?

Thanks,
Jeryl

Gents,

I finished the Responsiveness Summary review, added a few of my own edits here and there, accepted the changes, deleted the comments, deleted the original responses (leaving the final responses) and cleaned it up into a final version pending discussion Monday on a few ARC comments. CBI is cleaning up the table formatting for me. Attached for our use Monday is the redline version and the clean version. Cheers!
